Title: DRIVER FINDS SEAT FOR PREGNANT WOMAN

On JAN 17, I was on SBS service 48 heading to Bedok. I barely managed to squeeze on board and find a place to stand. The driver turned and asked me point blank: "Are you pregnant?" I nodded as I was indeed seven months pregnant. He stopped the bus, stood up, announced that a heavily pregnant woman needed a seat and politely (but firmly) asked a passenger in the row beside the driver's seat to oblige.
